Miss L. K. Chapman

Dear Sir,

We have received your favor 18th with returning courteous thanks for you at Samuelson's last sale. We hope that he will receive them, otherwise we suppose we will have to stand at the breach. We have executed your order as a matter of courtesy without charge, and have endeavored only to buy such pieces as we thought answered descriptions, but we find that we have made mistakes which only involve us in trouble, so that hereafter we much request you to send your bids to some one who can examine the coins and be responsible for purchases.

We have not heard from Mr Partridge for some time.

Truly Yours

Samuel J. May
